

SPECIAL REPORT

SHOULD I HIRE
A TAX ATTORNEY
TO RESOLVE
MY TAX ISSUES?

BROUGHT TO YOU BY

THE LAW OFFICE OF
JASON CARR
PLLC

Should I Hire a Tax Attorney To Resolve My Tax Issues?

Jason Carr, J.D., LL.M.

DISCLAIMER:

This publication is intended to be informational only. No legal advice is being given, and no attorney-client relationship is intended to be created by reading this material. If you are facing legal issues, whether criminal or civil, seek professional legal counsel to get your questions answered.

The Law Office of Jason Carr
2626 Cole Avenue, Suite 300
Dallas, TX 75204
214.800.2366
www.CarrTaxLaw.com

Should I Hire a Tax Attorney to Resolve My Tax Issues?

---

Sometimes taxpayer's with IRS tax problems decide to face the IRS on their own. Sometimes they hire a professional like a CPA, Attorney or EA - but not someone who specializes in tax resolution. The best thing to do when faced with an IRS Problem is to hire an expert in tax resolution so you can get the best result possible.

Even if you owe $10,000 or less, have all your income tax returns filed, and are able to pay the amount due over 72-months with a guaranteed a monthly Installment Agreement (payment plan), it may be a good idea to pay a small fee to have a professional set it up for you.

Here are the top 4 reasons why hiring a Tax Attorney is the smart thing to do if you OWE money to the IRS

1. Contrary to popular belief, you DO have rights as a taxpayer you probably don't even know exist. One of those rights is the right to representation. If an IRS revenue officer or revenue agent calls or "visits" you, did you know you are under no obligation to answer any of their (very intrusive and condescending) questions? You politely respond by asking for their contact information and telling them you are in the process of hiring a professional to represent you and that this person will contact them directly. A tax attorney that deals with IRS problems for a living knows the "ins" and "outs" and how to deal with the IRS so that your rights are protected. A tax lawyer also knows how to get you the lowest possible settlement. Generally, our clients never meet or speak with the IRS once we're on the scene!
2. If you owe $10,000+ to the IRS, the IRS has several new flexible programs available to taxpayers such as Offer in Compromise, Partial Pay Installment Agreements, Payment Plans, Penalty Reduction, and Currently Not Collectible Status (to name a few). Each option carries its own unique process, procedures and qualification requirements. Having an experienced tax attorney in your corner ensures you are taking advantage of the best options available to you.

3. Having unfiled returns (on average our clients have more than 3-years of unfiled returns) also qualifies you for professional help. Not filing legally required tax returns when due is considered a federal misdemeanor which carries with it a $10,000 fine and potential jail time. Generally, the IRS won't throw a person in jail unless the taxpayer is deemed to owe a lot of money and is uncooperative about getting the returns filed. Hiring a professional to represent you is the smartest move you can make here!
4. If you are being audited or about to be - The IRS will ask you about 50 very intrusive questions in the initial interview with them. How you answer these questions will dictate the fate of your case. Having a tax attorney conduct these meetings, WITHOUT your involvement is the best course of action I can recommend. Half of the referrals to the IRS's criminal investigation division (CID) come from that "nice" guy or gal you're sitting across the table from at the audit.

One last thing....ask yourself this question: Would you go to court without a lawyer? If you answered "yes" hopefully you know the law inside and out concerning your case. But if representing yourself doesn't seem like a good idea. (hint: it's NOT) it's best to hire somebody who is well versed in the subject matter.

It's the same thing when dealing with the IRS. Having someone who knows how to negotiate and deal with the IRS may be the best money you've ever spent!

WHAT DO YOU HAVE TO LOSE?

IRS problems do not go away on their own. Begin the process today of solving your IRS/state tax problems – once and for all. You owe it to yourself and loved ones.

Get a FREE tax relief consultation and let us permanently solve your tax problem!

You can call us at 214.800.2366 or visit us online at www.CarrTaxLaw.com for a free consultation to discuss your options in confidence.

The minute you retain the Law Office of Jason Carr, we will take over all communications with the IRS so you no longer have to speak to them. We will file any delinquent tax returns to bring you to full IRS compliance and vigorously defend your rights as a taxpayer to permanently resolve your back IRS tax problems.

You have nothing to lose except those sleepless nights.

ABOUT OUR FIRM

We offer transparency to our clients, helping them understand the process for resolving tax debt so they have realistic expectations for solving their specific tax problems. Our role is to negotiate the lowest possible IRS payment amount allowed by law, and we will not allow a client to retain our firm's services unless the taxpayer is a legitimate candidate for tax relief. Because the IRS has very strict guidelines governing eligibility, we let our clients know up front what tax relief options are viable for resolving their specific IRS problems. This ethical and honest approach to tax resolution has helped our firm achieve a high client satisfaction rate, while saving them money in back taxes and IRS penalties.